March was a month to remember at Brown & Partners! We kicked things off with a company trip to Gatlinburg, where we took in breathtaking mountain views, enjoyed thrilling rides, and indulged in some incredible food. We also had the chance to experience the energy of the SEC Championships, making for a great weekend of competition and team bonding. On the professional side, we attended our first leadership conference of the year, where we celebrated the dedication and achievements of 2024 while learning from industry leaders to propel us forward

The conference reinforced our commitment to growth, leadership, and excellence, setting the stage for even bigger things ahead. With adventure, learning, and celebration, March set the tone for an exciting spring at Brown & Partners!
